The poet's sensibility
goes looking for emotion,
to see if wake up
the goddess of inspiration.

When he is inspired, he do not shoot:
he wait for the right time.
When time comes, pull the lyre,
and plays in the same tone.

And so life goes on:
does a poem now,
and another he does not know when ...

The people think that the poet
is inspired at any time,
and only lives for the poetry.
