Self-absorption the wine of fools
Solomon diminishes into ether
No sable coat shall stop the grave
I am the stranded in self contempt
We are the rulers of the unchanged
We stay the same in our anger issues
Pride deceives us into being better
I have asked God to help me
Tears of compassion finally
Every human being needs help
Some seek it others hide
Pain is a teacher
Loneliness is a wise seer

Upon the sunset I see love
Purple twilight tries getting thru
Self-absorption reduces beauty
Nervous energy
Neurotic circles
My stereotypes have become dull
My perspectives on love lack everyone
My elegance is diamond arrogance
My mouth a foul place
I fall on the ground hard
The broken pick me up
The hurt tell me of heart ache
Humility has a thousand friends

I can change with help, lets talk
