Each poet transits in the sea of poetry,
according to their ideology.
Each has a philosophy
how to navigate this sea.

Some navigate of a way,
others navigate another.
There is no standard
for to be "on display".

The poet who does not conform, growls between teeth
and makes "blunt" poems.

The obedient poet,
follows the rules faithfully,
seeking "excellent" poems
