MISTY ROAD

I drive against the wind,
But the shield is no protection
From the coldness that wins
The race of my condemnation

The mist glues to the glass
Blurring my sight in tears
In the crystallized wetness
I hide my pain and fears

I dare keeping on going
Without knowing my way
I tame the speed, longing
For the brightness of my day...
