In the midst of so many people shining,
What do I do?
I use steel words
and I continue to cut,
or blind my modes
and I will copy?

I read ... I know I'm wrong...
But I'm not worried
in following a template ...
I really want to say things in my own way.

I want the freedom to do
and to let the thing roll...
Whatever happens,
I do not want to worry.

I write, therefore I am.
